California public education has become more fluid with every passing day and that creates new challenges to be forward-thinking and advocates for our students, teachers, staff and our entire school community. The truth is, we wouldn’t be where we are today without each other and ACSA.

I am so proud to be an ACSA member and your state ACSA president. We’re an organization focused on student advocacy and believe helping students become college and career ready requires a commitment to strengthening equity and creating learning opportunities for all students.

Our ACSA mission statement speaks to our strategy and what we are trying to accomplish as an organization:

“The Association of California School Administrators is the driving force for an equitable, world-class education system, and the development and support of inspired educational leaders who meet the diverse needs of all California students.”

ACSA’s work is spread across many spaces but none more important than building leaders that are making a difference in the classroom and for their students. Leaders that are creating positive connections and hold themselves accountable for the successes and challenges their students face.

Nearly 17,000 education leaders at all levels are part of our growing family. The leaders in this directory representing committees, councils, regions and charters, as well as other ACSA leadership positions, are some of the greatest champions that public school students have in California. I want to encourage you to get involved in our great organization.

Thank you for your commitment to our students and your commitment to strengthening public education in California.

Charlie Hoffman
ACSA 2021-2022 President
Your Professional Organization

Your involvement in the Association of California School Administrators demonstrates your commitment to professional growth and improvement in public education. ACSA is committed to meeting your needs with high quality member services and benefits. This directory describes the many reasons ACSA membership is a valuable investment in your future.

Make the Most of Membership — Get Involved!

You can play an important role in shaping ACSA’s policies and programs at the state, region and charter levels.

The State Level

Opportunities for involvement at the state level include serving as an elected officer, a member of the Board of Directors, or a representative to the Leadership Assembly. ACSA members serve on statewide professional committees, councils, task forces and advisory bodies. This cadre of committed volunteers is a vital professional network for ACSA members.

The Region Level

ACSA’s 19 regions divide the state geographically and provide valuable opportunities for professional involvement with administrators in nearby school districts. The regional structure allows your voice to be heard on education issues. Each region elects regional officers who also serve as the region’s voice at the statewide Leadership Assembly. In addition, regions elect a regional representative to ACSA’s state Board of Directors. ACSA regions offer networking opportunities, professional learning workshops and programs tailored to meet local needs. A portion of your dues is rebated to regions for these programs and activities. State Board members are listed by region on pages 5-6 in this guide. Region presidents are listed on pages 12-13. Region vice presidents for legislative action are listed on page 14, and Region treasurers are listed on page 15.

The Charter Level

More than 200 charters have been created within regions to address the local interests of members in one or more school districts. The charter structure gives ACSA its grassroots strength. If you are new to a district, the local ACSA charter is an excellent forum in which to meet your colleagues, share experiences and learn about district issues. Charter presidents are listed on pages 16-24.

Formation of ACSA

Administrators in California had long talked of forming an umbrella organization that encompassed their varied professional functions. A Constitutional Convention in May 1971 sealed the task. An interim board of directors, representing the consolidating associations, built an amalgamated program and structure that became operative July 1, 1971. As a result, California had the first operative united administrator organization in the nation — the Association of California School Administrators (ACSA).

Associations that joined together to form ACSA included:

- California Association of Adult Education Administrators (CAAEA)
- California Association of County Superintendents and Staffs (CACSS)
- California Association of School Administrators (CASA)
- California Association of Supervision and Curriculum Development (CASCD)
- California Association of School Personnel Administrators (CASPA)
- California Association of Secondary School Administrators (CASSA)
- California Elementary School Administrators Association (CESAA)

The combined membership of the original seven organizations was more than 8,000 with many duplicate members. Membership exceeded 9,000 in ACSA’s first year of existence, and has achieved phenomenal growth since.

Since ACSA’s inception, administrator associations in 39 states have moved toward some form of consolidated or umbrella organization. ACSA is the only association in the nation that encompasses the broad spectrum of the management/leadership team.

The Leadership Assembly has the authority to elect officers, approve bylaw changes, approve the association’s goals and objectives, receive and review information from task forces, ratify the ACSA legislative platform, make recommendations to state Board members relating to issues brought before the Leadership Assembly, advise state Board members concerning major policy issues, statewide ballot measures and on statewide candidate endorsements, and serve as liaisons to regions. The Leadership Assembly is composed of members of the ACSA Board of Directors, chairs of state committees, presidents of state councils, and a delegation from each region that consists of the region’s president, president-elect and vice president for legislative action, or a designee. The additional region delegates are determined by the regions. The number is based on the membership in each region. Listed are delegates from each region and each region’s number of votes.

How to become your region’s representative on an ACSA committee or council

ACSA has more than 450 members working on committees and councils. Committee/council activities are critical to the impact ACSA has on education in California and the nation. If you are interested in being your region’s representative on a state committee/council, previous participation on a region committee/council is advantageous. The procedure is:

Contact your region president to determine whether the position you are seeking is an elected or appointed position. Provide the region president with:

- Your name, position and work address
- The name of the committee/council on which you would like to serve; and
- Past ACSA involvement

If it is an elected position your region president will provide you with the process.

Nominations made by the region president are forwarded to the ACSA state president.

- Region presidents are requested to submit two names for consideration for each vacancy.

Appointment is made by the state president:

- Nominations for the appointment must be presented to the state president by March 1 of each year.
- Ratification for appointments and elections are by the state Board of Directors.
The following purposes of the ACSA/CAPEA Committee will advance the interests, needs and well-being of California students so that our schools will once again be the best in the nation and the envy of education worldwide.

To identify and study issues in the areas of higher education, administrator preparation and licensing, professional development providers, and legislation for the purpose of building collaboration and informing policy. To work collaboratively to identify issues and concerns of higher education and K-12 public education, professional preparation and development, and partnerships among school districts, institutions of higher education, and professional development providers. To influence and contribute to the education research agenda. To identify issues and make recommendations regarding increasing diversity and membership in the ranks of education administrators and professors of educational administration. ACSA members will be practicing administrators, appointed by ACSA’s president. CAPEA members will be professors of education, appointed by CAPEA.

Unified Voice.
The ACSA staff and leadership diligently serve the membership’s interests and needs. Whether the issue revolves around changes to the accountability system, LCFF/LCAP, finance or curriculum, ACSA advocacy networks ensure that we are a dominant voice in the deliberations.

Save Big.
Our members receive a significant discount on staff development. Attending just one program can get you every membership dollar back in savings! ACSA programs are high quality and well-respected. Programs focus on specific job-alikes or are issue oriented.

Be Influential.
Through committee and council participation and contact with ACSA staff, members have the opportunity to articulate how local and national policies will impact education.

Network & Discover.
Members can stay on top of current issues by actively participating and networking with colleagues at home or across the state. More than 200 charters have been created within regions to address the local interests of members in one or more school districts. The charter structure gives ACSA its grassroots strength.

Stay informed.
Regular e-mail alerts, EdCal newspaper and Leadership Magazine are benefits that provide insight into best practices for leadership and instructional strategies, job vacancies and major developments in the education field.

Value Your Profession.
Investing in ACSA membership demonstrates your commitment to your own professional growth, education and those who lead it.

The Bottom Line.
Your investment will yield a return. ACSA membership is an investment that gives back. Please support the only professional organization that serves and protects administrators and the future of educational leaders.

Strike Preparation

Strikes and threats of work actions are a reality in public education. School administrators must be prepared before picket lines are formed. ACSA can provide a practical seminar that guides school boards and administrators through the process of developing a tailor-made district strike plan. A comprehensive strike plan not only helps minimize the impact of a strike; it can also help prevent a strike. As a complement to the workshop, ACSA also publishes a comprehensive Strike Manual that provides an effective template for district policies and procedures. For Strike Preparation Seminar, Call a member of our Legal Support team at (800) 608-ACSA.

Balancing Rights and Responsibilities

Do you know your rights as an educator? Are you familiar with the Education Code sections that deal with due process, timelines, termination, transfer, reassignment, demotion and evaluation? If your answer is “no,” you need ACSA’s training session on Balancing Rights & Responsibilities. This presentation provides answers to those questions and more. Call a member of our Legal Support team at (800) 608-ACSA.

lobbying and legislation
ACSA has maintained its commitment to advocacy on behalf of public education and students through lobbying the legislative and executive branches of state and federal government and employing strategies to increase grassroots engagement. ACSA also exerts political influence by making state-level candidate endorsements during statewide elections and maintains a political action committee (PAC) to manage campaign contributions and to advocate on policy issues including ballot initiatives.

Governmental Relations Department | State & Federal
ACSA maintains a staff of registered lobbyists to handle all of the policy and fiscal issues that impact preschool through adult education in California. Each lobbyist is assigned to cover specific issue areas that may be as broad as the state budget, or as narrow as school site acquisition. ACSA tracks more than 1,000 bills over a two-year legislative session. ACSA covers federal legislation that impacts public education as well as administrators which includes ESSA, IDEA, Carl Perkins and Social Security Fairness. The Governmental Relations Department also leads a delegation of ACSA leadership to Washington, D.C. every year to lobby federal education issues impacting California.
Lobbying the Legislature includes testifying on bills before the Legislature's policy and fiscal committees, meeting with legislators and their staff on issues impacting public education across the state, negotiating amendments to individual bills, and working in concert with other organizations on issues of common interest. As much as possible, ACSA's lobbyists also provide legislative updates at state and regional functions to keep ACSA members apprised of the latest developments in Sacramento and Washington, D.C.
ACSA's lobbyists maintain close liaison relationships with the California Department of Education, State Board of Education, Commission on Teacher Credentialing, California State Teacher's Retirement System, California Public Employees Retirement System, and other boards and agencies that affect public education and administrators. Fiscal agencies such as the Department of Finance and the Legislative Analyst's Office are also monitored and lobbied when necessary.
In addition to four registered lobbyists, ACSA's Governmental Relations Department includes a senior director for both State and Federal relations as well as professional administrative staff who assist and support ACSA's advocacy efforts, and who are eager to help administrators who have questions on pending legislation or current statutes. The Governmental Relations Department also places valuable information on legislative issues on ACSA's website at www.acsa.org/advocacy.
The Governmental Relations Department also focuses on advising regional Vice Presidents of Legislative Action on candidate endorsements and relationship development within the current legislature.
The team develops and implements strategies furthering ACSA's long-term political vision. This includes various responsibilities, such as overseeing ACSA's Political Action Committee, advising ACSA's Board of Directors and staff on how legislation and strategic processes impact an atmosphere of political engagement.

How You Can Influence ACSA's Positions on Legislation: The Legislative Policy Committee
All of ACSA's positions on legislative issues are determined by ACSA members who serve on the Legislative Policy Committee. The Legislative Policy Committee has been tasked by the Board of Directors to set ACSA's positions on legislation. One member from each of ACSA's 19 regions and one representative from ACSA's councils and committees serve on the Legislative Policy Committee as well as student representatives from the California Association of Student Councils. Committee and council rosters are listed on pages 28-54.
Legislative Policy Committee members determine ACSA's positions on each bill that is brought before the committee by ACSA Governmental Relations staff. The committee also decides which bills ACSA will sponsor, meaning those bills ACSA will take the lead on. Another important function of the Legislative Policy Committee is developing the OneVoice Legislative Platform every two years, and updating each year as needed. The OneVoice Legislative Platform is ACSA's statement of philosophy that helps guide the association when adopting positions. ACSA members who are interested in serving on this committee or on regional legislative policy committees should contact their region leadership.
Making Things Happen: Vice Presidents for Legislative Action
ACSA’s Vice Presidents for Legislative Action (VPLAs) support the association’s advocacy efforts through local grassroots operations. Composed of elected VPLAs from each of ACSA’s 19 regions and one elected state ACSA VPLA, this group organizes local networks to engage politically active ACSA members to contact legislators on key issues. The VPLAs plan and coordinate ACSA’s annual Legislative Action Day, when more than 400 ACSA members spend one-day lobbying legislators in Sacramento on current education related issues and legislation. The VPLAs also manage ACSA’s regional legislative candidate endorsement process and make recommendations to the Board of Directors on which candidates to endorse. To become more active on the political side of what ACSA does and to advocate for the interests of children and administrators, contact your region’s Vice President for Legislative Action (listed on page 14).

When All Else Fails, Challenge the Law: ACSA’s Education Legal Support Fund
Although ACSA’s Governmental Relations Department works diligently to lobby against poorly drafted and ill-conceived legislation, some occasionally get signed into law. No matter what the cause, seeking litigation to protect the interests and integrity of public education is a necessary interest of ACSA and its members. In answer to this need, ACSA created the Education Legal Support Fund (ELSF) in 2006. The ELSF is a voluntary fund used for payment of legal fees necessary for involvement in education-related legal cases. The Governmental Relations Department works closely with legal advisors, the ELSF Advisory Group composed of ACSA members, as well as the California School Boards Association Legal Alliance to participate in, or initiate, legal cases challenging such laws. For additional information on ACSA’s ELSF or to participate in the fund, please contact ACSA’s Governmental Relations Department.

Professional and Legal Assistance

Guidelines

In the event any REGULAR member of ACSA needs assistance involving an ethical question or a legal question pertaining to the following: breach of employment contract, tenure rights, credential issues, dismissal, demotion, salary policy disputes, paid or unpaid leave of absence, he or she can contact a Member Assistance Advocate at the Ontario office at (800) 608-2272 or visit www.acsa.org under Member Services/Professional Legal Assistance. (Note: Administrators who belong to their local charter only and not state ACSA are not considered regular members.)

If the circumstances warrant further assistance, the Member Assistance Advocate will handle the matter and recommend what course of action should be taken. In some instances the matter can be resolved through administrative remedies; however, if it is necessary to involve legal counsel the member will make application for direct legal assistance.

A person requesting legal assistance must have been a regular ACSA member in good standing for six months at the time his/her problem arose. Retired members are eligible for legal assistance only if the matter occurred while they were a regular member. ACSA membership is required to receive this benefit.

For ACSA members who are represented by a collective bargaining unit, legal assistance or member assistance services shall be granted only when the request relates to an issue which is not included in a collective bargaining agreement or is not subject to the rules and regulations of PERB and meets the requirements for legal assistance or member assistance services.

Consolidated members are not eligible for legal assistance.

Direct Legal Assistance Procedures

If the foregoing professional assistance has not resolved the problem, the member may make application for direct legal assistance. If the member’s problem meets the criteria for legal assistance and his/her application is approved, the following procedures apply:

1. Panel Attorneys
   ACSA has contracted with attorneys in various parts of the state who are experienced in school law matters (panel attorneys). The legal assistance plan provides that the member will utilize the services of one of the panel attorneys. Ordinarily, the member will be referred to the panel attorney in his/her geographical region.

   Direct legal assistance may, and often does, take the form of telephone consultation. In any event, all legal advice, regardless of form, shall be charged to the member.

2. Non-Panel Attorneys
   The Member Assistance Advocate may approve the use of non-panel attorneys in limited instances where in their judgment geographic or emergency conditions warrant such authorization. Legal assistance when authorized in such cases shall be limited to a maximum of $2,000 based on ACSA providing not more than sixty percent (60%) of appropriate legal costs. Members authorized to use non-panel attorneys shall be responsible for all billings from and payments to their attorneys. Upon receipt of paid statements from such attorneys, ACSA will reimburse to the member, through the attorney, sixty percent (60%) of authorized costs.

3. Preliminary Consultation (2 hours) [Level 1]
   The program provides that the first two hours of direct legal assistance, when authorized, be provided the member at no charge.

   Legal assistance without charge to members who are involved in a common concern shall be limited to two (2) hours for the first member and fifteen (15) minutes for each additional member to a maximum of eight (8) hours. Such assistance shall be limited to consultation to determine if further legal action or litigation is necessary.
4. Further Legal Assistance [Level 2]
If legal assistance beyond two hours is necessary, the Member Assistance Advocate may approve additional legal assistance to a maximum of $1,000 (ACSA involvement). ACSA will bear 60% of the authorized costs and the member will bear 40% of such costs. Example: Based on a 60%/40% split, attorney would bill a maximum of $1,667, with ACSA paying $1,000 and the member paying $667.

When such additional assistance is authorized, the member will be notified by telephone or mail. The member shall then make arrangements with the assigned attorney for the payment of his/her share (40%) of all attorney fees and costs. The attorney shall submit a total billing to ACSA stipulating that portion to be paid by the member (40%) and that portion to be paid by ACSA (60%). The member and the Association shall be responsible for making their respective payments directly to the attorney.

The member shall assume the responsibility for all legal fees and costs which exceed any amount authorized by the Association, and shall sign a Legal Assistance Agreement. Release of ACSA’s share of attorney’s fees is contingent upon the receipt of this signed agreement.

In no event shall ACSA bear any additional costs of legal assistance attributable to a promise of punitive damages; the attorney shall bill the member for all such additional costs and the member shall be responsible for full payment of all such additional costs.

5. Protracted Legal Assistance [Level 3]
Protracted legal assistance may be authorized in cases where Further Legal Assistance is not sufficient to resolve the problem. Normally, protracted assistance will only occur in litigation cases.

When the Member Assistance Advocate believes that protracted assistance is indicated, he/she shall refer the matter to the Executive Committee.

Following approval by the Executive Committee, ACSA shall bear sixty percent (60%) of additional legal fees and costs (not to exceed $4,000) and the member shall bear forty percent (40%).

When such additional assistance is authorized, the member will be notified by telephone or mail. The member shall then make arrangements with the assigned attorney for the payment of his/her share (40%) of all attorney fees and costs. The attorney shall submit a total billing to ACSA stipulating that portion to be paid by the member (40%) and that portion to be paid by ACSA (60%). The member and the Association shall be responsible for making their respective payments directly to the attorney.

The member shall assume responsibility for all legal fees and costs that exceed any amount authorized by the Association.

Eligible members with ten years, or less, as an ACSA member shall be eligible for a maximum of $5,400. Beginning in year eleven, members shall be eligible for a maximum of $500 of legal assistance for each year of ACSA membership. All requests for protracted legal assistance remain under the purview of the Executive Committee. Retired members are limited to levels 1, 2 and 3 of legal assistance for a total of $5,400.
Appendix A

Legal Assistance Plan: Scope and Criteria

A. Scope.
Legal assistance may be provided to members for employment-related problems including: (1) breach of employment contract, (2) tenure rights, (3) credential issues, (4) dismissal, (5) demotion, (6) salary policy disputes and (7) paid or unpaid leave of absence.

B. Criteria.
To qualify for legal assistance, the member’s problem must also meet the following criteria:

1. Due process. The primary goal of the ACSA legal assistance program is to assure that each member is accorded due process of law in connection with the employment-related problem set forth above. The first criterion, therefore, is the extent to which the member has been accorded due process.

2. Professional significance. Another equally important and related criterion is professional significance. That is, the extent to which the member’s problem significantly affects the profession as a whole either as a matter of legal precedent or otherwise.

3. Member’s conduct. The member shall demonstrate that he/she has acted in accordance with professionally acceptable behavior and ethics.

4. Eligibility. The applicant must have been a regular ACSA member in good standing for six months at the time his/her problem arose. Retired members are eligible for legal assistance only if the matter occurred while they were a regular member. ACSA membership is required to receive this benefit.
